Michigan State

Saturday, November 11, 2017

12:00 pm EST

Ohio Stadium, Columbus, OH

Remember last week when I described the roller coaster of emotions that lie ahead? Saturday at Kinnick was like a roller coaster that sped down the first hill and got stuck upside down for 3 hours on the first loop. Let us never speak of that game again.

Playoff hopes are dead, but a trip to Indianapolis is still within the Buckeyes control, so get on out to Kropkogate and support the team by drinking absurd amounts of alcohol and consuming gallons of cheese-based dips on university property. Rosie, the industrial-sized heat lamp, will be there to keep you warm and burn your gloves when your hands hover too close. Also, it's Michigan State and first place in the division is on the line! While I don't really have ill feeling toward the Michigan State football team, their fans are a different story--which is why I'll just link this detailed narrative explaining why you should hate them too.

Mr. Marbles is watching the game from the couch this week and will head up to Evanston to tailgate and watch this week's much anticipated primetime game featuring Big Ten powerhouses Purdue and Northwestern. Middle to lower tier bowl positioning/eligibility is on the line and will be fought out UNDER THE LIGHTS in lower 30 degree temperatures. I don't even know why I go to these kinds of games and recognize I should seek counseling for this troubling habit.

B1G Expert Pick'em

Each week, Kropkagate's team of expert prognosticators gamble their life savings away while attempting to predict the outcomes of all Big Ten contests. Just like the Buckeyes, the expert pickers got roughed up last week and are eager to get back on the right track this Saturday. This week's game of intrigue is Purdue at Northwestern. You are rooting for a 4th straight Wildcat overtime because why the hell not?
